Potsdam N.Y.
Mch. 14-1924.

Dear Parson.-

I am surprised that you can find the first thing interesting in my letters. To me, they are the driest things, but I suppose it is something that we expect each week and the thought that our good friends never fail us.

Mr. George Sisson taught his class last Sunday and he read us a portion of your letter to him. The part relating to the Church Controversy and your stand in the matter. We all thought it fine. Mr. Sisson seemed very much pleased with it. He is quite well again, and Mrs. Sisson looking well, too. She advertized for a maid so probably, is trying to take life more easily.

I loaned the copy of Stewart's sermon to Mrs. Heath. Julian read it and thought he would like to read it at Trinity Church sometime when it is his turn to read there.

I told him to keep it. If you have more, please send me two as Mrs. Heath would like one.

George Sisson thought it fine, which it certainly is. You have reason to be proud of Stewart and you should get comfort from him and his family. I know you do.

It is getting quite spring-like and it makes me so lonely and sad. I love spring but when one has had great sorrow it is a hard time, because it seems does not blend with one's feelings.

When I think of the wonderful man George was and the place he would have taken in this community, and of Josephine's beauty of spirit, face and body, and the leader she would have been, I wonder why they had to be taken and such a poor stick as I left here alone.

Occasionally, some one mentions Josephine's dazzling beauty - and I wonder how Dear Brother:- If I am rightly informed, your church is seeking a pastor.

I have just completed my pastorate at Burke, Franklin Co. N.Y. Full credentials are in the hands of Rev. W. C. Taylor, Moores. N.Y., Chairman of Com. on Vacancy & Supply, Champlain Presbytery. I am sure that Brother Taylor would be glad to answer any questions you might like to ask. As you are the Moderator of the Session, let me say that I would be glad to make a date for one or two Sundays, if the way be clear.

Sincerely yours,

PUBLICATION DEPARTMENT: BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U.S.A.

November 20, 1913

Rev. Wm. Courtland Robinson, D. D.,

Delhi, N. Y.

Dear Dr. Robinson:-

I take pleasure in enclosing a circular and price list for THE HYMNAL. REVISED. You do not need the circular to impress you with its merits but possibly some of your officers may like to know the aim and scope of the revision and the main points of difference between the 1895 and 1911 editions.

As you will see from the price list, the book is made in three sizes, two with music and one with hymns only; and all may be had in five styles of binding. We recommend the full cloth for general use as we find it stands hard wear and varying temperature better than any other; and this is sold for introduction at $1.25 a copy for the large size, $1.00 for the smaller one whether with or without the notes.

We will take your complete copies of the 1895 HYMNAL in part payment for the music editions of the new one, allowing 25 cents each for them if exchanged for the octavo size, 15 cents if exchanged for the smaller one. By complete we mean with the covers and leaves intact, whether the old books contain the words and music or the hymns only and regardless of style or marking on the binding.

The introduction period continues for three months, duing which time any odd copies desired may be purchased at the quantity rate. After that the retail prices prevail with a discount on a number ordered at one time.

We can have the name of the church stamped in gilt letters on the books at the rate of $7.00 a hundred for one line, $12.00 for two, in lots of 25or more. The name of the owner can be put on in the same way for 25 cents a line.

If your congregation adopts THE HYMNAL we will furnish without charge a full morocco copy for the pulpit and one in plain binding for your study use.

Freight is paid by the church; but you can reduce it by sending your order to our New York Depository, Mr. George W. Brazer, Manager, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City. If you prefer to place it here, as you do your personal orders, it will, of course, be satisfactory to us; but I have the impression that your church has its account at our New York office.

I think I have covered all the points that are likely to arise but if not I shall be happy to give you any further information that may be desired.

Yours very truly,

Potsdam. March 7- 1924.

Dear Parson,-

Your autobiography was most interesting, though of course, you minimized all your virtues and your deeds of kindness and love. I shall never forget what you did for me in the hours of darkest gloom when it seemed I never could face the future with its awful loneliness and void and disappointment.

But you and Sister Rob. were so kind to me and with untiring patience listened to my woes and disappointments and comforted me so that I finally got on my feet again. It was a terrible struggle, but having been carried through it once I was better fitted for the hard experiences that followed so persistently, and which well nigh finished me, heart and soul. I have never had the courage to review my life - There are too many experiences that wring my very soul. I just rush along each day trying to forget the awful past.

Life is so short, anyway. It will soon be over. I am thankful for the love and devotion I did have from my dear ones, and for all the sweet thoughts and deeds of my devoted friends - among whom I count you and Sister Ida first.

Your life has been given to others to a remarkable degree and you should feel happy in the thought of having done so much to encourage, cheer and comfort others. I often think that ministers and physicians give their lives for others and get closer than any other individual can. Poor Dr. Grant is wearing himself out, but he never stops. I don't know what we could ever do if anything should happen to him. Think of the lives he has saved, and the souls upon whom he has cared. Could anything give one more real joy than being so much to others?

Col. Buck, a teacher in the Tech is desperately ill with meningitis and probably will not live through the day. Dr. Grant has been there five and six times a day, doing all he possibly can.

Col. Buck is retired, but only forty-eight. His wife is a Catholic, he is an Episcopalian. He has a beautiful daughter who is studying to be a nun in a Catholic institution. She was sent for some days ago, but doesn't come. Probably will not be allowed to. His son is a student in Tech.

We have had quite Spring like mather for a few days - and mvor is lowering quite perceptibly. The winter has certainly been short.

Mrs. Safford has written for Helen Reynolds to come to Los Angeles for a month or so, and then come back east with them and Helen expects to go. Will leave her three children at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cubley left for Santa Barbara, Cal. Tuesday. A telegram came saying that her only sister was failing rapidly - cancer and complications.

Quite a bit of money there, too, and only Mrs. Cubley and Dr. Humphrey left. "Who soever hath to him shall be given" seems applicable and I don't know of any who like it better than they.

Love for you and Sister Rob-

Dear Sir: Policy 125,665 - Robinson

We are certainly very glad to take up with you the provisions of your policy which is a Life Endowment Annuity at 60 now fully paid in the amount of $2,000. This is the amount payable to your estate in the event of your death at any time before October 7, 1925, the maturity date. Dividends are being paid to you in cash on each anniversary.

If you are living on October 7, 1925, your policy will mature as an endowment and you will be entitled to the following settlement options; (1) - $3,000 in cash; (2) $4,400 Paid-up life insurance; (3) $300 Life annuity; (4) $1,500 cash and $2,200 Paid-up insurance; (5) $1,500 cash and $150 life annuity; and (6) $2,200 Paid-up insurance and $150 life annuity.

To avail yourself of the second option, it will be necessary for you to file request therefor at least one year before the maturity date.

If you wish to surrender your policy at the present time, we will pay you in cash its face value $2000, and,in addition,will give you a Pure Endowment contract for $578. This means that if you are alive on October 7, 1925, you will receive $578 in addition to the cash payment of $2,000 paid at the present time.

Papers for surrendering your policy will be supplied you by our Albany representative, Mr. Henry H. Kohn, 66 State Street, Albany New York.

Thus, you will see that although your policy is not a 30 Year Endowment contract as you believed, you can realize its full face value, $2,000, at the present time which will be appreciably increased at maturity provided you will be living on that date. These figures of ours also show that it will be of decided advantage to you to wait until maturity before realizing on your contract. We hope that you will decide to do this.

It is a pleasure to be able to quote you such favorable figures as those given above and we know that you will be pleased with the outcome of your contract. Please let us know if there is any further way in which we can be service to you.

I am sorry to trouble you with further inquiry about a possible visit on my part to Delni to talk over the foreign mission investment of your church, but I would very much appreciate having a line from you about the matter in case I can be of any service at this time. The reason I need to make further inquiry is because I have requests for speaking engagements on both October 14th and 21st which I have been unable to answer definitely since I had offered these datesto you before these requests came in. The parties concerned are anxious for a prompt answer on my part, hence my inquiry. If some Sunday in November would suit you quite as well, if you want me to come at all, I could then meet these other requests. If I do not hear from you on or before October 9th, I shall assume that you do not wish me to come to Delni at this time.

It will suit me very nicely to comply with your request to come to Delhi for Sunday, November 11th. Kindly let me know whether you would like to use me for both services on that day, or if you can place me to advantage in some neighboring Presbyterian Church for one of the services. If either your church or some other would like me to give a stereopticon lecture in the evening, please let me know right away about this so that I can plan accordingly and engage the lecture in advance. These lectures are always in big demand. One of the most interesting of the series is a comprehensive presentation of all phases of our work around the world.

It is very kind of you and Mrs. Robinson to wish to entertain me in your home, and I shall be glad to accept your hospitality. When would you consider the best time for a conference of your officers and others interested particularly in the foreign missionary investment of the church? Should we do this on Saturday evening, or some time on Sunday? I shall await further advice from you on these various questions.

My dear Mr. Robinson:

Your letter of August 21st was awaiting me on my return to the office a few days ago. I would appreciate it very much if I might have the opportunity of spending a Sunday in your church in the near future which would give opportunity to talk over the situation regarding Mr. Hocking and the Foreign Mission cause.

We can well understand your own disappointment and that of your people when you learned of the turn of affairs that have taken place. I have wondered, therefore, if a personal interview with you, your officers and people would not be of value. In addition to such a personal conference, I should be glad to be of any further service that you might desire, speaking about missions at the church services, a general address in the morning and a stereopticon lecture at night, speaking also to your Sunday school and young people. I could come to Delhi either for the second or third Sunday of October, or at some later date if this would be preferable.

In case the plan I have suggested seems to you feasible, will you kindly let me know your wishes.
